Registry Editor

File Edit View Favorites Help

The screenshot shows the Windows Registry Editor interface. The left pane displays the tree structure under 'Computer' > 'HKEY_CURRENT_USER' > 'Control Panel' > 'Desktop'. The right pane shows a list of registry values. The 'MenuShowDelay' value is selected, and an 'Edit String' dialog box is open over it. The dialog box has 'MenuShowDelay' in the 'Value name' field and '100' in the 'Value data' field. A red arrow points to the '100' with the text 'Change to 100' overlaid in red. Another red arrow points to the 'MenuShowDelay' entry in the registry list.
